COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT / KNOWLEDGE TRANSFER

1. Cultural Programs

2019, May In(ex)ception: Thematic Exhibition – Part 2 (例外日常 — 作品成果展 延續篇). Curated by John Erni and Louis Ho. Koo Ming Kown Gallery, CVA, HKBU. Inspired by the In(ex)ception: Summer camp and thematic exhibition (2018), students of the course HUMN2047 City, Space and Creativity, further ask: What do minorities mean in our city? Where are they? How do they live? Do they engage in creative arts? After all, who are always being “in(ex)cepted”? It showcases the works created by students who explore related questions concerning space, minorities and the city through their creative practices.

2019, April “There’s No Place Like Home: Justice, Migration and the Arts”: An Art Event. The event, which addressed the relationship between migration, detention and the arts, brought together international award-winning artists who have experienced and documented their own journey through creative practice and text, with academics who have worked with broad narratives of global migration. The event took place at Mansion of the Future, a local art venue in Lincoln. Curated by the newly established “Justice, Arts and Migration” network (JAM), in collaboration with HKBU and University of Lincoln, UK (Centre for Culture and Creativity, Lincoln Institute for Advanced Studies, and Lincoln School of Film and Media).

2018, August In(ex)ception: An Exhibition. Curated by John Erni and Louis Ho. Co-organized by 1a Space Gallery.

2018, July In(ex)ception: Summer Art Camp. This community art project aims to invite and form inter-ethnic and inter-generational friendship for the purpose of making art together. Through 4 days of intensive creative practices led by 3 local and veteran artists, questions of social inclusion/exclusion were explored through art and cultural participation. Besides the art works, a 25-min documentary entitled “例外 日常 In(ex)ception” (directed by 羅志明 Jimmy Lo) was created: <https://youtu.be/ixNaaog6Z68>
